HARDY GARDEN ROSES

Garden roses may be successfully planted either in the fall or spring. To achieve success with them thorough preparation of the ground is essential. Well drained ground, free if possible from shade, deeply spaded and liberally manured is what roses love, they are more often starved than otherwise, I do not remember having seen any which have died from over-feeding; use cow manure if possible, but stable manure well rotted, sheep manure, and bone are all good, so is soot. Plant as early as possible in spring for the best results. Be sure roots are moist when planted, spread out roots well, and firm thoroughly. Cover the swollen part from which the shoots spring at least 3 inches. Do not prune newly planted stock until it has started to grow, then do not be afraid to head the plants back severely. During the growing season keep the surface soil stirred lightly and always do this after a rain. When you water do it thoroughly. Spraying the plants each night is more harmful than helpful. Winter protection is best afforded by drawing soil up around the plants just before freezing up weather, when the ground is hard frozen this can be supplemented by a generous covering of straw or leaves, this must not be done while ground is soft or field mice may do much damage. Do not be in too great a hurry to remove winter protection as we frequently get almost Arctic weather as late as the beginning of April. The time for pruning will vary with the season, but for Boston and vicinity, the middle of April is a good date.

The roses offered in this list are all grafted or budded two years old field grown stock, and are not carried over winter in sheds or storehouses, packed in sand as are a large proportion of the roses sold in the Eastern states. Being well protected outdoors with roots always moist such plants cannot fail to give more satisfaction than the usual stock offered, over half of which dies the first season. Early orders are solicited and these will be filled as soon as the ground is open. The subjoined list is not an extensive one, but the varieties listed embrace about every known color, and are very dependable. For the rambler roses the best winter form of protection is to simply cut them loose, lay on the ground and scatter a light covering of soil over them.

Fall planting of all types of hardy roses I would strongly recommend. In recent years I have had very much better success with fall than spring planting and I would strongly recommend anyone who has any doubts as regards its success to try a few plants this fall and compare results with spring plantings.

HARDY ROSES NOVELTIES AND RECENT INTRODUCTIONS

The following varieties will be found especially good. They comprise the best of the Roses sent out by American and European specialists, all are offered in strong two year old field grown plants.

HYBRID PERPETUAL ROSES

Baroness Rotschild. Pale pink, very symmetrical flowers and handsome foliage.

Captain Christy. Soft flesh pink, very dependable.

Captain Hayward. Scarlet crimson, fragrant and very free.

Fisher Holmes. Rich crimson scarlet, long pointed buds.

Frau Karl Druschki. The most generally popular garden rose in America. Vigorous, a persistent bloomer and snow white flowers of great size.

General Jacqueminot. Scarlet crimson, still popular although in cultivation for over 70 years.

George Ahrends. An exquisite shade of soft pink, delicately fragrant. Often referred to as the "Pink Druschki."

Hugh Dickson. Very large dark red, velvety flowers, sweetly perfumed.

Mme. Albert Barbier. See Novelties.

Magna Charta. Bright pink, suffused with carmine, heavily scented, a grand rose.

Mrs. John Laing. Soft pink, fragrant flowers of large size, a perpetual bloomer in the same degree as the hybrid teas.

Mrs. R. G. Sharman Crawford. Rosy pink, lighter towards base of petals, blooms steadily over a long season.

Paul Neyron. Immense flowers, pink shaded rose, very fragrant and one of the largest roses in cultivation.

Prince Camille de Rohan. Very rich velvety crimson flowers, fragrant, probably the darkest rose in cultivation.

Ulrich Brunner. Bright carmine red, cup shaped flowers, strongly perfumed.

Price of Hybrid Perpetual Roses, $1.00 each, $10.00 Doz., $75.00 per 100, except Mme. Albert Barbier, for which see "Novelties."

CLIMBING OR RAMBLER ROSES

Aglaia. Pale yellow, in addition to its value as a climber this makes a good trailer.

Alberic Barbier. Slender pointed yellow buds, which are creamy white when open, also an excellent trailer.

American Beauty. Rich carmine, the large flowers are abundantly produced.

American Pillar. Quite large flowers, crimson pink in color, the centre is white and the golden stamens show prominently, extremely vigorous and hardy.

Bess Lovett. Double bright crimson, grand lasting qualities.

Christine Wright. Lovely double pale pink, extremely vigorous.

Crimson Rambler. While largely displaced by other varieties, this pioneer of the rambler family is still popular, flowers are dazzling scarlet.

Dr. Huey. Crimson maroon, shaded black, a very striking color, does not fade blue.

Dr. W. Van Fleet. Commemorates one of America's greatest rose hybridists, clear pink, long, pointed buds, very large, extremely vigorous.

Dorothy Perkins. Soft blush pink, wavy flowers, deservedly popular.

Emily Gray. No other yellow climbing rose can equal this variety, needs some winter protection, but it is worth it, of about the same color as the old Marechal Neil. Awarded a gold medal by the National Rose Society of England, each$1.50

Excelsa. Bright scarlet crimson, usually preferred to Crimson Rambler.

Ghislaine de Feligonde. Clear yellow in bud stage, showing yellowish white and copper tints when expanded, a vigorous and very hardy yellow, each$1.50

Gloire de Dijon. The most popular climbing rose ever introduced, a perpetual bloomer, large, creamy buff flowers, does well in New England if laid down in winter.

Hiawatha. Single, rich carmine red, unequalled in brilliancy.

Jacotte. See Novelties.

Mary Wallace. One of Dr. Van Fleet's best introductions, hardy in New England; bright pink, illumined with shining gold, each $1.50

Lady Gay. Deep cherry pink, quite distinct from Dorothy Perkins and does not flower quite as freely as that variety.

Mrs. M. H. Walsh. Small double, pure white flowers, a good climber, and an equally fine trailer.

Pauls Scarlet Climber. No other climber equals this in brilliancy, moderately vigorous, does not fade out, an indispensable variety.

Professor C. S. Sargent. A good climber and trailer, double yellow flowers borne on small clusters, needs protection in very severe weather.

Roserie. Similar to Tausendschoen but does not fade out like that variety.

Shower of Gold. The golden yellow buds open orange yellow, paling to creamy white, prominent golden centre. Protect in severe climates.

Silver Moon. One of Dr. Van Fleet's grandest varieties, the semi-double pure white flowers are 4 inches in diameter, easily the finest white climber.

Star of Persia. See Novelties.

Tausendschön. Known as "Thousand Beauties," a well deserved name, color bright pink fading almost white, an early bloomer, moderate vigor.

White Dorothy Perkins. Similar to Dorothy Perkins in every way except color which is white.

All Rambler roses except where otherwise priced 75 cents to $1.00 each, $8.00 to $10.00 per dozen.

POLYANTHA ROSES

These Roses, sometimes classed as "Baby Ramblers," are excellent for bedding purposes and flower during the entire summer.

Clotilde Soupert. Pearly white flushed pink, needs good winter protection.

Coral Cluster. Very delicate coral pink flowers produced in large clusters, a most attractive color.

Ellen Poulsen. Bright rose pink, much the best of its color, vigorous and carries extra large trusses.

Gruss an Aachen. Orange, yellow and red in bud stage, when opened light flesh pink and salmon yellow.

Miss Edith Cavel. Brilliant scarlet double flowers, produced in large clusters.

Yvonne Rabier. The best pure white polyantha, vigorous and free blooming.

Price of Polyantha Roses, 75 cents to $1.00 each, $8.00 to $10.00 dozen.

MISCELLANEOUS ROSES

Cabbage. Rose pink flowers, fragrant, probably the oldest rose in commerce.

Conrad Ferdinand Meyer. A grand Rugosa variety, fragrant double pink flowers.

Blanche Moreau. Pure white Moss Rose, produces flowers in clusters.

Ecae. Sulphur yellow flowers and scented foliage, makes a bush 5-6 feet high.

F. J. Grootendörst. A splendid persistent red flowering Rugosa.

Harrison's Yellow. Semi double, bright golden yellow flowers, very hardy.

Hugonis. Clear, bright yellow, blooms early in May and makes a bush 6 or more feet in height, graceful foliage and incomparably beautiful. Has a knack of mysteriously dying out in summer, but is well worth plant-

- ing, even though only one or two crops of flowers are obtained from it, each....$1.50
- Mme. Plantier. This is a Noisette variety succeeding well in New England, good sized clusters of pure white flowers.
- Persian Yellow. Darker than Harrison's Yellow, of similar habit and fragrant.
- Salet. A very pretty pink Moss Rose, with pleasing perfume.
- Sir Thomas Lipton. Double pure white Rugoso, the finest of its color.
- Wichuraiana. The well known "Memorial Rose" with pure white flowers, makes an excellent trailer.
- York and Lancaster. In culture since 1551, semi-double, red and white striped. There are many legends attaching to this old variety.
- Zanthina. Makes a very handsome shrub carrying bright golden yellow flowers, 2 inches in diameter, of vigorous habit.
- Prices of the foregoing Roses except Hugonis $1.00 each, $10.00 dozen.

STANDARD OR TREE ROSES

These have been exceptionally scarce and hard to obtain for several years. I am glad to be able to offer strong standards this season of a number of Hybrid Teas, these are all worked on Rugosa stocks and can be heartily recommended. As the supply of these is not great and fall orders called for over half of them, early application is urged. The following varieties can be supplied in Standards:

Betty, Killarney, Killarney Queen, Lady Ash-town, Lady Ursula, Francis Scott Key, Lady Hillingdon, Mme. Butterfly, Mrs. Aaron Ward, Ophelia, Souvenir de Claudius Pernet and Willowmere.

Prices are $3.50 each for Souv de Claudius Pernet, and $3.00 for other varieties.

HARDY LILIUMS

These are one of my leading specialties. The advent of L. Regale has given a tremendous impetus to Lilium culture in America and the demand today far exceeds the supply of many varieties. Planting of a few varieties like candidum and testaceum is better done in the fall, but with many others spring planting will give excellent results. Quite a number of varieties can be shipped at once, these being kept stored in dry soil in a cold room, some others can be dug and shipped as soon as the ground opens. In fall I hope to be able to offer several additional varieties to those contained in this list.

Auratum. (Golden rayed lily of Japan).

35-50 cents each; $4.00-$46.00 doz.

Auratum Platyphyllum.

50 cents each, $6.00 doz.

Batemanniae. (Bateman's Lily). A beautiful apricot colored variety blooming in July and August....40 cents each, $4.00 doz.

Browni. (Brown's Lily). Large trumpet shaped flowers with brown anthers.

$1.00 each, $10.00 doz.

Canadense Flavum. (Canadian Lily). This is the yellow form of this graceful lily.

Especially good for naturalizing in woodlands....20 cents each, $2.00 doz.

Canadense Rubrum. (Red Canadian Lily.)

Like the preceding except in color.

25 cents each, $2.50 doz.

Candidum. (Madonna Lily). Suitable for fall planting only.

25-50 cents each, $3.00-$6.00 doz.

Chalcedonicum. (Scarlet Turks Cap Lily).

Makes a brilliant show in the garden in July. Quite a scarce variety.

$1.50 each, $18.00 doz.

Croceum. The old Orange Lily of English cottage gardens, the true variety is not at all plentiful, elegans being usually sold for it.....35 cents each, $3.50 doz.

Elegans Atro-Sanguineum. Dark red flowers, an early bloomer.

25 cents each, $3.50 doz.

Elegans Var. Prince of Orange. Of a lovely apricot color.

25 cents each, $3.00 doz.

Hansoni. A very handsome Korean lily. Foliage carried in whorls, flowers are borne 6-12 to a stalk and are golden yellow in color, spotted brown, will thrive in sun or shade.

Henryi. Sometimes called the orange Speciosum. Its rich orange yellow flowers appear in August and September. It is one of the most dependable lilies in cultivation. I have an extra fine stock in several sizes.

40 cents to $1.00 each, $4.00-$10.00 doz.

Philadelphicum. A pretty native Lily, flowering in June carrying 2-5 cup shaped rich orange flowers, spotted with maroon, good for naturalizing.

25 cents each, $2.50 per doz.

Regale. The glorious Regal Lily is undoubtedly the finest of the entire family for culture in American gardens. It is absolutely hardy and as many as 15-30 of its big, fragrant flowers are sometime produced on a stalk. Anyone can plant this lily and be assured that it will succeed if they will keep manure away from it. While fall sales heavily exhausted sales of this glorious lily, I can offer several sizes for spring delivery all flowering sizes at 40 cents to $1.00 each, $4.00-$10.00 doz.

Speciosum Album. A beautiful pure white Lily, a band of pale green down the centre of each petal.

35-50 cents each, $4.00-$6.00 doz.

Speciosum Melpomene. Dark crimson, heavily spotted and margined white, very fragrant.

35-50 cents each, $4.00-$6.00 doz.

Speciosum Magnificum. Rich ruby carmine, margined white, a beautiful variety.....35-50 cents each, $4.00-$6.00 doz.

Speciosum Rubrum. Rose colored flowers of varying depths of color.

35-50 cents each, $4.00-$5.00 doz.

Rubellum. A lovely Japanese variety. Flowers are trumpet shaped 3-5 inches long and as wide, carried 1-8 on a stem, usually bright pure rose pink in color and deliciously fragrant.

Superbum. A fine native lily, flowers bright orange crimson in color and heavily recurved and spotted. Splendid for naturalizing. 25 cents each, $2.50 doz.

Testaceum. Also called Excelsum, believed to be a natural hybrid between candidum and Chalcedonicum, nankeen yellow in color, a beautiful but scarce lily. $2.00 each, $20.00 per doz.

Thayerae. A graceful new Lily in the way of Wilmottiae, perfectly hardy.

$1.00 each, $10.00 per doz.

Tigrinum Splendens. The best form of the popular "Tiger Lily," richly colored orange red Turks Cap flowers, fine for the flower border or in the wild garden.30 cents each, $3.00 doz.

Tigrinum Flore-Pleno. The only double Lily in which the flowers are really pleasing. 30 cents each, $3.00 doz|.

Umbellatum Erectum. A fine form of the Western Orange Lily.

30 cents each, $3.00 doz.

Umbellatum Grandiflorum. Very rich orange variety. 30 cents each, $3.00 doz.

Umbellatum Incomparable. Dark red form.30 cents each, $3.00 doz.

Wilmottiae. A first class garden lily of vigorous but graceful habit, good sized bulbs, will carry 20-30 each of the lovely, recurved orange yellow flowers.

$1.00 each, $10.00 doz.

MONTBRETIAS

The varieties named below are a big advance over the old kinds usually offered. Montbretias are splendid used in clumps in the flower border or in rows for cutting. The bulbs make a rapid increase and can be stored in dry soil in a cool cellar.

George Davison. Lovely pale orange yellow flowers of extra size, spikes well branched.

Golden West. A new variety with pure golden yellow flowers.

King Edmund. A giant, rich yellow with brown markings in the throat.

Lord Nelson. Deep orange scarlet with a yellow eye, a beautiful variety.

Each of the above varieties 20 cents each, $2.00 doz.

GLADIOLI

In the subjoined list will be found many of the finest varieties in cultivation. The bulk were raised by A. E. Kunderd, the world's foremost hybridist with this popular flower. All varieties grown are not listed here, as I am gradually reducing the number of named varieties and placing the others in mixtures. The stock of bulbs this season is unusually fine and prices have been materially reduced. Planting of Gladioli can be done from the time the ground is open until early July. Four inches is a good depth to cover the first plantings and 6 inches for any planted after the middle of May.

In the Subjoined list P. stands for Primulinus varieties. K. for the Kunderdi or ruffled type, the balance are plain petalled varieties. The Primulinus varieties are freer bloomers than the larger flowered types, come into flower earlier, bloom satisfactorily from very small bulbs and are much more graceful for use in the home than the larger flowered section, the latter are good for massing in the garden.

To all those interested in Horticulture I would most heartily commend membership in the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, the acknowledged leader of its class in America.

Last year over 750 new members joined, and until the end of 1926 there is still an opportunity to join for the small sum of $2.00 per annum. Life membership costs $50.00.

I will be glad to propose the names of any desiring to join this excellent society. Some of the benefits to be derived from membership are: Free admission to all exhibitions for members and their immediate families; the use of the library (the finest of its kind in the New World), including the taking of books home; the receipt of all bulletins issued and each fortnight a copy of Horticulture, the official organ of the society.
